LOYALTY TO THE CHURCH

(C. E. Riddle)

Do you know that institutions were made for man; that, as his need for things grew, his ability to supply his wants increased? He has established printing presses, schools, hospitals, libraries, commercial associations, educational societies, and many other organizations to assist him in reaching a higher standard of civilization.

The church is the most dominant institution in the life of man. So important was the establishment of this organization that God could not leave it to man alone. Personally He supervised its organization, giving His direct attention to the details of the work. He planned it, arranged it, and He is still at the head of that great institution to lead, guide, and direct its affairs.

He has done all of this for YOU. Show your appreciation of it. Go to church. Lead out and ask the other fellow to go with you. Tell your church officers that you will support them in every righteous effort.

Do you know that your bishop kneels in prayer every day asking his Maker to give him power to reach his congregation? Do you know that the bishop needs encouragement? His heart is aching because of the burden he bears and how happy he would be if you would go to him and tell him you appreciate his interest in the work.

Love your leaders, not only your bishop but all of the auxiliary officers, and give them your support. The Savior has promised you that if you would love and obey the Father and His representatives here upon earth that His Father shall be given unto you. You won't receive the whole world, or the power to rule over the many worlds which are now under the jurisdiction of our Father in Heaven but you will receive the greatest gift of all—the gift of eternal life.

Go to church. Attend the meetings. Don't stay away because you think you are not needed or because you think that the church officers don't like you. Don't go from place to place telling that the bishop is not worthy of his position and that he would not give you a chance to work even if you did go. You'll have a chance to work if you want it. If you have the right kind of metal in you you are bound to reach the top. The bishop isn't going to pick you up and put you on the pinnacle of success. That wouldn't be fair to you. But, if you will let him, he will steady the ladder so that you can climb up without falling. And when you reach the top rung you will be happier because of the effort you have made.

Don't say you are not religious. If you think you are not you have been deceiving yourself all these years. If you will try to understand yourself and to find out what your attitude toward life really is, you will discover that you are religious. Try praying. Pray sincerely. Ask the Lord for the things you really need. Thank Him for past blessings. He will give you a testimony and knowledge of the efficacy of prayer. You will look at life from a new view point. You will realize that you possess other powers and attributes which you knew not of.

You will attend church of your own accord. You won't need someone to urge you all the time. You will experience satisfaction in going. The words of the speaker will be spiritual food to you. You will feel within yourself that what he says comes thru inspiration from above. The songs will have new meanings. They will be expressions of thanksgiving to the Most High God. You will partake of the sacrament with a greater appreciation of the sacrifice on Calvary. You will pledge yourself to serve God always. You will go some rejoicing because of His goodness to you. You will be loyal to the church of your own accord because it is YOUR institution. You are a part of it.

It will pay you to be religious. It

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

THAT many cities need a spirit of unity and team-work.

THAT no citizen should be a PASSIVE BY-STANDER, but every citizen should do his share to boost his city.

THAT the most eagerly read pages are the advertising pages. Thrifty men and women who have particular wants scan them daily.

THAT if all citizens will use loyal, enthusiastic team-work in an effort to build their home city, their city would go ahead and accomplish results that heretofore have been considered impossible.

THAT the leading advertisers of a city have succeeded in demonstrating to the people of their community that they have built their business on the cornerstone of mercantile success, quality, price and service.

THAT their past achievements will be nothing compared to the improvement and great strides they will make in the future in service rendered and influence wielded toward the building of a GREATER CITY.

THAT these business houses stand as an inspiring example of business institutions built for permanence on the principles of advertising, square dealing and public confidence and that the same expert skill and integrity of effort will serve indefinitely in the service of their city.

E. R. WAITE,

Secretary.

Shawnee, Oklahoma Board of Commerce.

Mrs. T. C. King, who spent several weeks at Anaheim, California, this fall being treated by Dr. Myers of that place for rheumatism returned a couple of weeks ago very much improved. The husband of the lady states that his wife is now able to walk with a little assistance, something she has been unable to do for two or three years past. She has suffered for 28 years with severe rheumatism, and this is the first doctor to give her any relief to speak of. The treatment she took was of the electric variety and after the first application specific improvement was noted. Her many friends of Southern Utah will be very pleased to learn that she has received considerable relief from her trouble.

We are in receipt of a communication from Harry Hunter who went to Glendale, California a month ago to spend the winter, with the hope that his health would improve. He tells us that he is considerably better than when he left Cedar and enjoying the balmy atmosphere of California. His wife is also in Glendale and is delighted with the place.

Don Coppin returned from Salt Lake City last Friday where he had been to secure three Studebaker cars for customers in Southern Utah. He disposed of two in Millard county and one in Beaver county. Don says business in Salt Lake City is good and everybody in the auto sales line seem to be flourishing.

Mrs. Hattie Root of Lund spent Tuesday in Cedar visiting with her son Jack, and attending to some personal business matters.

Attorney Geo. R. Lund of St. George was a business visitor in Cedar Wednesday.

will pay you to be loyal to the church. When all other institutions fail the church still stands. Isn't it worth while to belong to such an institution? Being truly religious you will be better prepared and fit to continue your school life, your home life, and to do the things to which you are adapted. And when sorrow comes into your life you will find comfort and solace in the everlasting truths of the gospel and the hope of meeting loved ones in the life beyond.

Every step in life will be a result of your firm, religious convictions, and of your loyalty to the church.

LET US GET BEHIND RED CROSS

RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

An appalling situation of suffering, involving hundreds of thousands of people who have been forced to flee from their homes in the Near East and to seek refuge in lands already burdened with care, has emphasized to the people of this country that the American Red Cross is our National Emergency Fund with which to meet great crises in disaster. The accentuation of the fact is the greater in that the particular calamity now appealing to humanity has fallen just in advance of the American Red Cross annual Roll Call.

The resources of the American Red Cross must be annually replenished through the Roll Call. This year the summons is seconded by a concrete emergency of the kind that is ever liable to be precipitated upon the world. It is impossible for the Red Cross to be dependent upon a public appeal for specific objects, because when emergency and disaster face us we have no time to wait until funds can be raised. The Red Cross is our ever-ready agency for responding to the call of calamity the moment the alarm is sounded.

The American Red Cross should have a minimum membership of ten million in order that its reserve may be equal to our domestic and our foreign emergencies in humane purposes. In the light of my experience in relief work throughout the world I feel it a duty to express my personal hope that the people of America will show their confidence in their Red Cross in this Roll Call in unmistakable terms. Let's all get behind the Red Cross and give it ten million members for its great work.
